Balloons Going Northward From Start at St. Louis

Sighted in Illinois as They Float Before the Wind During the Night—Beautiful Sight Witnessed at Forest Park When They Ascend.

THE COUNTRIES REPRESENTED

Chicago, Oct. 22.—Balloon No. 3, Major Hersey piloting it, and at least one other of the international entries are now over Lake Michigan. Two or three balloons were seen at Gray's lake, 15 miles from Waukegan, at 6:05 today. Major Hersey's in the United States, was over Zion City at 6:50. There is some confusion as to whether Hersey's was one of the balloons seen at Gray's lake. The balloons went northeast in rather a stiff breeze. Hersey spoke to people in Zion City. He said everything was fine.

A German Balloon. Indianapolis, Oct. 22.—A German balloon, moving slowly, passed over Broad Ripple, six miles north of here, at 9 o'clock this morning. It is supposed to be the Pomern.

The Start. St. Louis, Oct. 22.—Drifting before a moderate breeze in a direction just west of north, when lost to view in the haze of evening, nine big balloons, representing four nations, yesterday began the second international contest for the James Gordon Bennett cup. The start was not marred by the slightest accident and the arrangements were so well made that after the first balloon, Pomern, of Germany, had ascended thirty-five seconds after schedule time, all were off with the word of the starter at five minutes intervals.

When all were in the air it was noticed that either by accident or design, the three German balloons ascended to a considerable height at the start, the two French entries took a medium course, while the three upholding the honors of America, and the single English balloon hugged the ground, taking advantage of the faster and lower currents of air and apparently covering a greater distance in less time than their competitors.

The crowd that witnessed the beginning of the great contest was one of the largest ever seen in St. Louis. All vacant spots near the portion of Forest park which contained the balloon grounds were jammed with people long before starting time. Ah the streets in the western end of the city were black with jostling throngs, and street car facilities proved entirely inadequate to transport those who wished to see what had never before been witnessed in America, nine balloons in the air at once, competing for international honors.

Balloons, pilots, countries represented and the official starting time of each is as follows: Pomern, Oscar Erbaloeh, Germany, 4:00-35; United States, Maj. M. B. Hersey, America, 4:05; L'Isle De France, Alfred Leblanc, France, 4:10; Duesseldorf, Capt. Hugo Vonaber, Germany, 4:15; Lotus H. Griffith Brewer, England, 4:20; America, J. C. McCoy, America, 4:25; Anjou, Rene Gasnier, France, 4:30; Abercorn, Paul Meckel, Germany, 4:35; St. Louis, Alan R. Hawley, America, 4:40.

The only hitch in the start was when the St. Louis, which was over-weighted with ballast, was hauled back to prevent it colliding with one of the grand stands. The bad start, however, did not discourage the St. Louisans, as a pigeon, considered a good omen, flew on top of the balloon before it was completely inflated and remained there until after the balloon ascended in the race.

As each balloon started, a military band which accompanied two battalions of United States regulars from Jefferson Barracks, struck up the national air of the country the balloon represented, and the great crowd cheered the bowing and hat waving aeronauts. Each balloon bore several flags and this tended to make the scene a cosmopolitan one.

According to observations made here with test balloons, the higher air currents are toward east, giving the aeronauts an opportunity to go in that direction by ascending.

Going North.

Alton, Ill., Oct. 22.—The first balloon, Pomern, from Germany, passed over Alton at 6 p. m., traveling north about ten miles an hour.

Seen in Illinois.

St. Louis, Oct. 22.—Balloons in international contest are reported to have been sighted at Effingham, Taylorville and Pana, Ill.

Balloon Passes Charleston.

Charleston, Ill., Oct. 22.—One of the balloons which left St. Louis passed Charleston last evening at 6:50. Its course is northeastern and it passed about eight miles north of the city.

DEMOCRATIC STATE MACHINE SOLICITED FUNDS FROM THE AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY

Hon. E. T. Franks Backs Assertions By Quotations From Democrats and Democratic Papers.

"Let the people go to the polls on November 5 and by their votes forever put their stamp of disapproval upon graft and corruption in the state government, let them break down the corrupt state machine at Frankfort, and upon the ruins of that machine begin the foundation of a new state government, a new Democracy, with leaders at the head the equal in character and intellect of those of the good old days, when Kentucky was governed by men of genuine honesty and patriotic motives," was the keynote of the address delivered at the Kentucky theater last night by Hon. E. T. Franks, internal revenue collector, from the Second district of Kentucky.

About 1,000 voters heard Mr. Franks, who presented in his clear and concise manner claims, backed by evidence that came mostly from the Democratic machine leaders themselves.

He charged the Democratic administration with gross extravagance that savored strongly of graft, in the management of the state affairs, and denounced the statement of Judge Hager, that the state was being run with a tax levy of two and one-half cents less on the hundred dollars than under the administration of Governor Bradley.

"Mr. Hager knows (or if he does not know he is not competent to hold the office of governor) that the Democrats are collecting 50 cents on the hundred dollars worth of taxable property to meet the general expenditures of the state, and that the Bradley administration collected only 42½ cents on the hundred dollars for general expenditures, and mark you that of the total amount of taxes collected the Republican administration left in the treasury a sum, exceeding one million dollars, while, of the total amount of five million dollars more collected by the Democratic administration, the Democrats left a deficit in the general expenditure fund of $476,000."

After introducing indisputable evidence of graft in the management of charitable institutions and horrible cruelty to the inmates of the asylum, the perpetration of gross election frauds; Democratic election officers making voters out of trees of the forest and of the houses in Kentucky.

Gossip of Local Politics.

One of the explanations given for the slight put upon Col. J. E. Potter in the Second ward, is that he was aided in his race for the school board and his elevation to the presidency by Republican members. When Mr. Ashley Robertson resigned his seat in the school board from the Second ward, Col. Potter was elected by the board to fill the vacancy until the November election, defeating Col. Gus G. Singleton. The board then elected Colonel Potter president. The vacancy in the board occurred after the primary, so it devolved upon the Democratic committee to fill the place on the ticket. But Colonel Potter, who had been chosen by his associates on the board and honored with the presidency, was overlooked. He retires with his ad interim honors after the election.

Hon. Ed Franks didn't "tote fair" last night. He quoted from Democratic state officials and Democratic papers what they said during the late state primary. As the local organ says: "What anybody said a long while ago doesn't cut any figure in this campaign." If the Democratic machine leaders are willing to forget what they said about each other, why can't other people?

"Paducah just can't afford even to take a risk of suffering a setback or waste of funds from the incompetency, inexperience or political indebtedness of her chief executive," is the way one young Democrat expressed his idea of the local political situation today. "Laudable political ambitions are to be encouraged in young men, but the mayor's office should not be used simply as a stepping stone in a political career. In that capacity it is too likely to be used, with all its functions and prerogatives, simply to promote the advancement of the incumbent, and the taxpayers will find afterward that they have been mulcted to pay for it. We are now living up the limit of taxation, and it will require the master hand of one used to business and the management of funds to save expenses and at the same time take care of such public improvements, as the growing population and increased traffic demand. I shall vote for James P. Smith on his express promise to

CHARGES AGAINST O'BRIEN ON TRIAL.

Magistrate C. W. Emery is this afternoon trying the case against W. S. O'Brien charged with converting 50 bags of peanuts of the Seudder-Weaver company, of Cairo, to his own use. The peanuts were shipped away from Paducah by the Southern Peanut company by mistake, and Captain O'Brien feels sure he will prove himself innocent of any charges.

ROOSEVELT IN MISSISSIPPI SAID JEFFERSON DAVIS WAS THE FAVORITE SON OF THE SOUTH

Greeted by Crowds of Veterans Who Shake His Hands and Cheer His Utterances—Hurries Through Memphis and Has Big Reception at Nashville Today

Nashville, Oct. 22.—Roosevelt was given an enthusiastic reception. He visited President Jackson's home and later spoke.

Tallulah, La., Oct. 22.—President Roosevelt spoke here for about ten minutes from the rear platform of his private car. He was greeted by a large crowd.

The president dwelt on the necessity of high standards of citizenship, and adjured the people to be satisfied with nothing less in their public men. "We don't need brilliancy or wonderful talent so much as a high average. You need honesty in the highest sense of the word; honesty and decency and a square deal for all. I don't care how honest a man is, if he is a coward he is no good. You can do nothing with a timid man even though he means well. You need both honesty and courage and even these are not enough in a man who is both honest and brave. If he is a natural born fool. In addition, then, to honesty and courage, a man needs, saving grace, common sense. The man who possesses these three qualities can be trusted in almost any position."

The speech was greeted with frequent cheers, and after its conclusion the train departed for Vicksburg from here.

At Vicksburg.

Vicksburg, Miss., Oct. 22.—After a fortnight spent in the canebreaks and looking bronzed and vigorous President Roosevelt paid a flying visit to Vicksburg.

During the parade the procession was halted, and General Lee, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans told the president that several hundred union and confederate veterans stood before him and he desired that the chief executive should meet the old warriors. The president arose in his carriage and shook hands cordially with the old soldiers.

Commenting the services which Jefferson Davis had rendered to the country in the Mexican war, President Roosevelt referred to the confederate chieftain as not only the favorite son of the Mississippi, but of the entire south, and the storm of applause which followed his words compelled him to pause for several minutes until it had subsided. He went further along this line and in a private conversation expressed himself that as a young man he had made a mistake in his treatment of Jefferson Davis.

Passed Through Memphis. Memphis, Oct. 22.—The special train carrying President Roosevelt and his party from Vicksburg passed through Memphis this morning at 12:25 o'clock.

Belmont May Resign.

New York, Oct. 22.—August Belmont, according to reports current today, is about to resign the presidency of the National Civic Federation. Whether the Interborough Metropolitan probe revelations have made his position at the head of the economic body untenable, or whether some lesser motive impels him, Mr. Belmont will not tell. His friends say, however, that he has definitely determined to quit his office when the federation holds its forthcoming trust conference in Chicago. It is rumored that Seth Low will succeed Mr. Belmont.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

AMERICANS HAD INCRIMINATING PAPERS IN ROOM

St. Petersburg, Oct. 22.—After the arrest of the three Americans the police searched the rooms occupied by the Wallings and seized all the papers found there. Among them were a great number of pamphlets most of them of a violent revolutionary character.

Wallings has been in peril of arrest here for a long time, owing to his open sympathy and constant association with members of the violent revolutionary party. It is not probable that he was involved in any of their concrete plots against the government, but it is known that he was in intimate touch with the leaders of the bloody Moscow rebellion on Christmas, 1905.

Mr. Lagerwahl Better.

Mr. A. F. Lagerwahl, who was injured when the American Express company's building collapsed, has regained partial use of his foot that was paralyzed and his physicians are now confident that he will recover entirely from the paralytic trouble.

UNUSUAL FOG.

Street cars which started early in the morning were also run with difficulty even up to 8 o'clock and the motormen kept out danger lights and a continual clanging of the gongs on the cars to prevent collisions and warn pedestrians of the approach of the cars. Many old citizens and veteran river men say that the fog was one of the heaviest ever known here. It was so dense at 7 o'clock that it was impossible to distinguish an object a hundred feet distant.

A COCKING MAIN.

A cocking main, which chicken breeders promise to make the biggest ever seen in this section of the state, will be pulled off Thanksgiving day. The place is not selected, but it is tipped the fighting will be done in Illinois. There will be fourteen big fights, with local chickens. Many have gone into training already. The fights will be classified according to weights of chickens. Some handicap fights between chickens of different weights will be features. There are several lightweight cocks in Paducah which owners will back against odds in weight, if odds can be secured in money, and one fight of this class will be watched with interest.

COMPANY WILL NOT TREAT

A committee of 500 farmers are here this morning, asking proprietors to withdraw buyers from the district. They will also visit all farmers in the county, urging them not to sell. There is no likelihood that tobacco men of Owensboro will withdraw buyers.

Farmers are riding into town. It is believed the men came from Hancock, McLean and Ohio counties. There is no disorder.

NATURE FAKIR.

Tamford, Conn., Oct. 22.—The Rev. W. J. Long, accused of being a nature fakir by Roosevelt, today made the president's latest hunt the subject of bitter criticism and sarcastic comment on Roosevelt's brand of nature study. He said bear killing as done by the president was butchery.

EIGHT MILLION RUN.

New York, Oct. 22.—A run was started on the Harlem branch of the Knickerbocker Trust company today. Reserves kept the depositors in line. Officials with piles of money at their sides paid as rapidly as possible. No statement from the bank officials is obtainable.

The hope is expressed that the Knickerbocker Trust company suspension is only temporary. All trust companies during the night pledged themselves to see the Knickerbocker through any difficulty to the extent of fifteen millions. A Foster Biggins today succeeded Charles T. Barney as president of the Knickerbocker.

New York, Oct. 22.—The Knickerbocker Trust company temporarily suspended payment at its downtown office this afternoon, after paying out $8,000,000.

CHINA WANTS TO KNOW.

Shanghai, China, Oct. 22.—She Chinese government has ordered the Canton viceroy to immediately dispatch warships to Pratas and investigate the report of the Japanese seizure and proposed colonization. The little island promises to become the bone of contention between China and Japan, the former disputing the alleged discovery by the Japanese and asserting that it is clearly within Chinese territory. While apparently undetermined whether the island is available for Japan's naval purposes, assertions of Japanese, who raised their national flag there, that the island contains great mineral wealth, have attracted the attention of the Peking government. Hence the orders for the despatch of warships and investigation issued by the foreign office.

GOOD BLOOD

NATURE'S PROTECTION AGAINST DISEASE

The preservation of health and prevention against disease is almost entirely dependent upon pure, healthy blood; every organ, tissue, nerve and sinew of the body draws on this vital fluid for nourishment and strength. Poisons, humors and germs from various sources often get into the blood, and then this great life-stream becomes a source of infection and disease, instead of a nourishing, health-giving fluid. Heredity is likewise an important factor, regulating the quality of the blood. Some persons are born with tainted blood from diseased ancestry, and Scrofula in one of its numerous forms is sure to crop out some time in life. Not only poisons in the blood are responsible for disease, but when the circulation is run down and becomes poor and weak in quality, then we see the effect in a general bad condition of health, such as weakness, sallow complexion, boils, and various skin eruptions. All blood troubles require a tonic and blood purifier, and none other equals S. S. S. It goes down to the very foundation of the trouble, and removes every particle of the poison or impurity from the blood. And not only does S. S. S. antidote the poisons, humors and germs, but it possesses health-giving, tonic properties, which build up and strengthen weak, impoverished blood, and fortifies the system against disease. S. S. S. permanently cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Eczema, Tetters, and all other skin diseases and disorders. Book on the blood and all medical advice free.

In the Kitchen of the Czar.

No chef in all the world occupies a more peculiar position than Eugene Kratz, the little-known but august cordon bleu who resides in the imperial kitchen of the "great white czar." This remarkable man draws a salary rather larger than that of the president of the United States—about $55,000 a year—and paramount control of the palace kitchen in all the homes of the imperial family from Peterhof, the Antichoff, the Winter Palace and Tsarskoe Selo, all the way to Livadia in the Crimea.

Six times a year Mr. Kratz makes the round of all the imperial kitchens throughout the empire, and his peculiar position may be realized from the fact that his social rank equals that of a general in the Russian army. And an army this wonderful chef certainly commands with absolute authority—an army whose "weapons" are not the less important for being mere pots and pans.

Of course a culinary artist of such rank as Mr. Kratz does little or nothing at all with his own hands, but is rather an inventive genius, titillating the palate of the emperor and his august guests. For when the autocrat of all the Russias wears of Russian, French, Italian and English dishes he must be tried with some fantastic such as chicken gumbo as made in New Orleans, or some of the delightful dishes of the Balkan States and Turkey.

It is well known that in the kitchens of the czar the most elaborate

"tasting" ceremonies are gone through, and when the czar is in residence at Peterhof—a palace about half an hour distant from the capital—not only Mr. Kratz himself, but also his under chefs and certain high officials of the imperial army, are called in to taste every dish that goes to the emperor's table, after which a reasonable time is permitted to elapse to see whether or not the "tasters" are poisoned! This curious survival of other days comes down from the time of Ivan the Terrible.

It is worth while noting that the Emperor Nicholas is a large and hearty eater and delights in Russian national dishes, a mere recital of which would give us indigestion. Every repast served in the imperial palace, is an elaborate banquet, and state dinners are strung out almost indefinitely by means of elaborate Paris entrees.

Every morning a major of the Imperial Guards, selected by the czar, and occupying an incongruous position oscillating between the army and the kitchen, is called into the imperial cabinet and handed the menu for the day, which is prepared by the czar himself. Curiously enough, the czarina never orders a meal.

The major takes the imposing gold-embossed menu to the kitchen and hands it to M. Kratz, who takes it in front of his desk, that the soup cook, the roaster, the fish cook, the pastryman and the rest may see just how to go to work. From the hours of 8 to 12 and from 12 to 2 the imperial kitchen is a scene of inspiring activity, and there are frequently 300 men at work under M. Kratz.

Breakfast is served to the imperial family at 8—a simple repast of eggs, tea, coffee and fruits. The little Grand Duchesses Olga, Tatiana, Anastasia and Marie drink chocolate at breakfast. Always on the table of the czar may be seen dishes of As-trakhan caviar and also the pate de foie gras of which he is so fond. Luncheon is served as early as 11 o'clock, with salads, soups, cold meats, ices and dessert. But these are, as it were, mere hors d'oeuvres before the most elaborate dinner served as early as 5 o'clock. It is this great meal which calls for the army of cooks and employes whom practically the entire day. Between 4:30 and 5 a vast array of plats is set out on the kitchen counters, and the inspecting major of the imperial guards comes on duty and samples with religious care and vast gravity every dish on the menu.

But before his set of morsels is served M. Kratz himself begins to taste, and after the strange "poisoning" interval has elapsed the dishes are placed in an electric elevator with a closed shaft, into which the military officials are locked, and up goes the lift to the ante-chamber of the imperial dining-room. Here again the major on duty samples the dishes under the eyes of the czar, after which the imperial family sit down to dinner. No dish ever served on the czar's table is permitted access to the dining-room save through the elevator shaft. Thus the food can in no way be tampered with save by the cooks themselves and the military officials on duty. It was said at one time that the imperial family of Russia sat down to their meals in a dining-room of cast iron and steel, secure as a great bank vault. This is probably exaggerated, but undoubtedly elaborate precautions are taken against the casting of bombs even in the palace itself.

As to the dishes served at dinner, they are many and strange, for his imperial majesty is a gourmet of fine and discriminating taste. This does not prevent him, however, from eating queer national dishes of Russia. After hors d'oeuvres of caviar and pickles there are large quantities of "bortsch," or cold soup brought on several hot and cold roasts, four or five entrees of diverse nationalities, hot and cold poultry, game and vegetables, hot and cold puddings, ices, cakes, champagne, hot tea and vodka. The czar rarely misses a dish through the whole menu, and displays remarkable fondness for the cold soups. At the end of these family dinners an elaborate confectionery piece moiee is served—a most elaborate piece of fancy sculpture by the artistic imperial confectioner. Sometimes it may represent an ice castle built on the Neva, glistening with frosted sugar and lit with electric lights.

On one evening it was a colossal double-headed eagle of imperial Russia, a huge sweet-stuff doll, or even a portrait of some celebrity. This is always admired by the little grand duchesses, but it is broken up after a minute or two and fragments of it distributed to the children. The number of courses on the menu is always the same, except, of course, at a state banquet, when there may be fifteen or eighteen and a vast variety of wines and liquors.

On such occasions, however, the enormous state banquetting chamber is used, and none of the imperial family appear save the czar himself. M. Victor Hirtzler, one of the sous-chefs at Peterhof, estimates that 800 men and women are employed in the kitchen of that palace, exclusive of the wine cellar staffs—W. G. Fitzgerald in Town and Country.

AERIAL MACHINE ON NEW LINES

Gyroplane Built by Louis Breguet Is Given Trial in Paris.

Paris, Oct. 22.—A new principle for aerial navigation with heavier than air machines has been employed in recent experiments and gives promise of large results. Instead of using planes on the box kite principle, the gyroscopic principle is used. The gyroscopic principle is employed and the machine is called the Gyroplane. The theory is that by the employment of horizontal propellers the machine can be easily lifted and lowered after the fashion of the old "Helicopter" toy, longitudinal motion being obtained by the force of gravity by allowing the machine to tip and glide on its planes in the same way that heavy birds soar.

The honor of constructing the first machine on this principle belongs to Louis Breguet. He has built a machine in the form of a cross, each arm having at its extremity eight revolving paddles slightly inclined. These thirty-two paddles present a total surface of twenty-two square meters and are revolved by a forty-horse power motor at the center of the cross.

In the preliminary trials the machine left the ground instantly when the motor was set in motion and was easily sustained in the air with seventy-eight revolutions a minute. O'Brien to Eat With Mikado. Tokio, Oct. 22.—Thomas J. O'Brien, the American ambassador to Japan, has been invited to take luncheon with the emperor and empress Nov. 13. This is a special mark of favor, as its purpose is to emphasize the desire for friendly relations between Japan and the United States.

MAN TORTURED FOR 33 YEARS.

Suffered From Disease of the Skin. But Found a Cure at Last.

A story written in the own words of the sufferer has just come from Covington, O., which has caused a big stir among skin specialists and among those suffering from eczema and other forms of skin diseases. George Flammer, of that city, an old and honored resident, suffered from eczema for 33 years before he was able to find a cure and was then saved from further suffering by D. D. D. Prescription. Here is what he says about it:

"I had eczema for 33 years and two bottles of D. D. D. Prescription completely cured me. I know that this sounds strange, but it is the gospel truth. As soon as I found out what D. D. D. would do I hunted up two of my best friends, Mr. Shuman and Mr. Rank, both of whom had eczema. Both of them are nearly cured, and Mr. Rank has used only seven bottles. It is a wonderful remedy."

D. D. D. Prescription is a liquid remedy which gets right at the roots of such diseases as eczema, psoriasis, salt rheum, barber's itch, etc. It doctors the skin where the skin needs to be doctored. It kills the germs and the itching scales fall off, leaving the skin fine and white.

We know that this remedy is absolutely reliable and that it has cured eczema and the patients appear to be cured forever. Come in and let us give you a booklet on dieting, bathing and other necessary things if you are a sufferer from skin disease. R. W. Walker & Co., Fifth and Broadway.

FIRE MARSHAL.

The legislature by an act approved by Governor Beckham March 27, 1906, authorized the appointment of a fire marshal at a salary of $2,400 per annum, together with any expenses including expenses of deputy, detective and officers. During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1907, the salary and expenses of this new and improved method of furnishing jobs to political henchmen cost the magnificent sum of $8,886.34. The job is held down by the gentleman who conducted the state primary in 1906, in which the county of Johnson with a total Democratic vote of 900 gave Beckham a 1 Hager majorities of 1,500 each, and the county of Martin, where not a single ballot was sent, gave them a majority of 253. He is the same man who in the same state primary sent less than 100 ballots to the strong McCrory town of Hickman, where nearly 700 Democrats wanted to vote.

This "fire marshal" and those who co-operate with him, while costing the insurance-paying public about $10,000 dollars, has up to date, succeeded in arresting one sixteen-year-old boy charged with setting fire to a building, and that boy turns out to be crazy.

This is the "fire marshal" who attended the Democratic railroad commissioners' convention at Henderson, where, according to the public press and the private statements of some who attended, the successful candidate traded all the clerkships under the commission and the lieutenant governorship in 1911 in order to win. This is the same "fire marshal" who when that convention was over, found his family too sick to permit his obeying a subpoena to appear before the Trigg county grand jury and substantiate the charges which he had, in self-glorifying manner, paraded in the public press.

This is the same "fire marshal" whose paper, "The Fulton Leader," was designated by Governor Beckham as the medium of official communication and of which General John K. Hendricks, now the Democratic nominee for attorney general, said in his speech at Nicholasville in 1903: "Many dollars are thus dropped from the executive office into this vulgar and obscure sheet."

This is the same "fire marshal" whose relations to the railroads was so close that when he wanted the Democratic county chairman to come to Louisville to consult about the best way to hold a Democratic state primary in 1906, offered to furnish a pass.

This "fire marshal" is a valuable spoke in the drive-wheel of the machine.

Outrageous Methods of Securing Campaign Funds.

We were shown a letter from a lady employed at one of the asylums which stated that out of a salary of $20 due for the month of August she was required to pay to the campaign fund of Governor Beckham, $5, or one-fourth of her small salary. The letter also stated that this same thing was done to all the female employees; she did not know about the men. This is a shame and an outrage. Captain Kidd and his pirates robbed the rich, the James gang never took tribute from a woman, and especially a poor woman who worked for wages. Robin Hood gave to the poor instead of holding them up. John A. Murrell killed a man for 35 cents, but he never robbed a woman. That is left for the machine to do.—Frankfort Call.

The song in your own heart will sustain you longer if you share it.

THEATRICAL NOTES

Coburn's Minstrels. An exceptionally clever list of ragtime song, dance and selections this season by the comedians of "J. A. Coburn's Greater Minstrels," the very latest and best to be had of all writers, carefully selected and adapted to each man's requirements, gives life and color to the singing feature of the big show, and provides the best mixed program in years for the new first part, while the performers, headed by Dan Holt, Joe Dunlevy, Tommy Galvin, Billy Morris, Roy Peck, James McCain, in the black face singers and dancers furnish an uproariously funny bundle of new jokes, stories and witticisms, which have not been heard before with minstrel attractions. Next Wednesday, October 23, at The Kentucky.

"What Women Will Do."

The coming attraction at the Kentucky on Friday, October 25, will be Holden Bros.' big scenic sensation, "What Women Will Do," a new sensational melo-drama from the pen of the well-known author Harry Jackson. The play deals with a keen story of life and adventure, and it is said that the audience is kept in a state of excitement from the rise to the fall of the curtain. Some of the remarkable scenic surprises are, the storm at sea, a real life size boat turned up-side down in full sight of the audience, a wonderful leap for life into the boiling sea, a struggle for life or death on the rocky abyss, a clever and interesting life boat and many other wonderful and novel effects. The play not only deals with every day life, but gives scope for some clean and clever comedy, which is bound to keep the audience in a state of merriment. The season's record of this attraction makes it worthy the attention of the theater-going public.

THE HAIR BRUSH

Breeds Dandruff, Which Causes Falling Hair and Finally Baldness.

Prof. Unna, Hamburg, Germany, European authority on skin diseases, says that dandruff is as contagious as any other malevolent disease, and that one common source of the spread of dandruff is the use of the same hair brush by different persons. The way to avoid catching dandruff or any other disease from another's brush, is to insist on the use of Newbro's Herpicide. It not only kills the dandruff germ, but it is also an antiseptic that will prevent the catching of any disease whatever through contagion of another's brush. Sold by leading druggists. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. W. B. McPherson, special agent.

An Imitation Takes for Its Pattern the Real Article.

There was never an imitation made of an imitation.

Imitations always counterfeit the genuine article. The genuine is what you ask for, because genuine articles are the advertised ones. Imitations are not advertised, but depend for their business on the ability of the dealer to sell you something claimed to be "just as good" when you ask for the genuine, because he makes more profit on the imitation.

Why accept imitations when you can get the genuine by insisting?

FOR CORTELYOU

LABORING MEN START HIS BOOM IN VIRGINIA.

They Insist That He Arose From the Ranks of Toolers, and is in Sympathy With Him.

Washington, Oct. 22.—Through the labor organizations of this city and Virginia a real boom is being launched for Secretary Cortelyou as head of the ticket in 1908. The local unions here are to appeal to the various labor organizations throughout the United States to aid in supporting him. In the current issue of the Trade Unionist, labor's official organ in the District of Columbia, an open editorial announcement of the plan is made. Mr. Cortelyou is the choice of labor, according to the article, for the reason that he has come up from the ranks of labor himself, and always has served and advanced the interest of the wage-earning class. It was due to his energy that the letter carriers obtained the increase in salaries, as did the postal clerks. The article declares Mr. Cortelyou to be the idol of that big army of government employees, and adds that the vote-getting power of the rural free delivery carriers is well known. Secretary Cortelyou repeatedly has declared that he will not be a candidate, but his friends seem not to take his declaration seriously.

METHODIST CONFERENCE. AT HUMBOLDT NOV. 13.

Humboldt, Tenn., Oct. 22.—Humboldt is preparing to entertain the Methodist conference of the M. E. church, south, which convenes here November 13. Three hundred and fifty or four hundred delegates are expected and the citizens of Humboldt are determined to see that the great body of preachers are entertained in a fitting manner. This is the first time conference has met in Humboldt for thirteen years.

DEMOCRATIC STATE MACHINE

the same officers being rewarded by appointments to positions of trust in the charitable institutions of the state, Mr. Franks took up the story that is being circulated over the state that A. E. Willson is attorney for the tobacco trust, while the Democratic administration is the friend of the growers, and has done great things for the farmers of the state. He showed that Mr. Willson, as attorney at the Louisville bar, brought a suit against the Southern Railway company for damages to tobacco that was being shipped over the railway company's line. The claim for damages was a just one and a Democratic judge in the lower court and a Democratic court of appeals passed on the case and said it was just and should be paid.

He said:

Claim on Farmers. "The administration is making great claims for what it has done for the tobacco growers of the state. If their statements are true, I am truly glad, for I have always been in favor of all legislation looking to the interest of the farmers of the state. But, suppose we look into this matter, and see if these fellows have as much as they claim. Two prominent Democrats, one drawing a salary from the state, the other very high in the councils of his party, told me not long since that in the last campaign of 1903, a prominent Democrat, whose name is under the roster, to be voted for this November, went to New York and solicited and received $15,000 from the American Tobacco company to be used for the Democratic campaign; Beckham, Hager & Company, and that it was used to help elect the Democrats in that campaign. The Georgetown Times (Democratic) has this to say on the subject:

Beckham is making a plea to the country people on the temperance question, but he has never explained how the managers of his campaign sold out the country people, body and soul, to the American Tobacco Company for $15,000. Beckham lays great stress in his speeches on some things the senate investigating committee did and said, but he is as silent as the tomb about this fact which was brought out in the committee. Will the country people vote for a man who allows his campaign managers to take $15,000 from this great corporation that the farmers are fighting? There is not a farmer in Kentucky but who feels that he is oppressed by this great tobacco corporation, and yet when any one in the legislature wants legislation in favor of the tobacco grower the Beckham benchmen always passed the word down the line that they must not be hurt, because they put $15,000 in the campaign fund. The only law which ever protected the tobacco grower was the McCain law, and yet Governor Beckham had his friends to repeal it and say to the tobacco grower that the buyer could steal ten pounds out of every hoghead and not pay for it. Truly a great reformer to appeal to the farmers of Kentucky.

"If Mr. Beckham and Mr. Hager are so much interested in the tobacco growers of the state, ought they not to be legislating against this trust rather than soliciting campaign funds from it?"

Some Strange Voters. "I am at a loss to know what the Democratic committee wants with campaign funds, when it has so many expert election officers scattered over the state; unless the committee had some trouble in getting P. Pear, A. Apple, R. Raspberry, B. Rock and S. Cedar to the polls; but as the apple and pear crop is short in Franklin county this year, they may have to ship them in from Arkansas or some where else, and it will need some money to pay freight.

"Attorney General N. B. Hays, your present attorney general, puts some very interesting questions to the state administration. This is Democratic authority, and the Democrats should take it as good."

"Do you stand for a policy which takes from the common school fund of the state $28,260.84 to pay for a lot of teachers' registers and trustees' record books worth only $3,000? If elected will you continue such a policy?"

"I suppose they will, because they say we are to judge the future by the past."

"Do you stand for a policy by which a clerk in the insurance department is paid $150 per month in order that said clerk may send a favorite of the machine $50 monthly, at the expense of the taxpayers?"

The speaker was given apt attention by the voters, who represented every walk in life from the humblest citizen to the highest taxpayer and it was evident that to a man they were deeply interested in the unfolding of the bald truths as laid down by Mr. Franks, and he was frequently given loud applause as he drove his statements home with the presentation of the records and evidence from indisputable sources.

At the conclusion of the speech a large number of citizens, many of them workmen from the shops and mills of the city, crowded around Mr. Franks to grasp his hand and pledge their votes for Willson and the entire Republican ticket.

HE GAVE BOND

STEEPLE JACK PROMISED NOT TO FALL ON ANYONE.

Receives Thousand Dollars for Placing Ball on Singer Building Flagstaff.

New York, Oct. 22.—Most of New York craned its neck this week when Ernest Capelle received $1,000 for setting up one high ball in public. It was not of the alcoholic variety, however, but the one on the top of the flagpole crowning the forty-two story Singer building on lower Broadway, more than seven hundred feet above the street level. Likewise Capelle is not a bartender but a steeple jack, and by reason of his feat in finishing off the tallest habitable structure in the world, the leader of his profession, though little more than a boy. The feat for which he received $1,000 and which was watched by thousands consisted of shinning up the steel flagpole which swayed like a reed under his weight, and crowning the remarkable structure with a gilded ball, which now marks the highest point reached by skyscraping architects. Curiously enough Capelle, who went about his perilous task with the utmost coolness, did not look like a fly to the gaping multitude below but like a full-sized man, when he finally gained his dizzy perch on top of the pole, on account of the fact that there was nothing else in that part of the upper world to make him look small in comparison. Perhaps the strangest feature of the whole undertaking was the fact that Capelle had to give bonds to the city not to fall on anybody, although as he remarked it wouldn't make much difference to him if he did.

RIVER NEWS

The water on the government gauge this morning again showed a decline, and it is expected that the low stage reached last week will be equaled before this week is out. The Ohio river was falling rapidly yesterday all the way from Pittsburgh to Cairo, while the Tennessee was also falling from the headwaters to the Ohio. The low stage makes it extremely difficult for some of the larger craft to navigate the streams.

The R. Dunbar due in last night at 11 o'clock, did not reach port until this morning on account of being caught in the fog, and consequently, was late in getting away this morning.

The Clyde came in from the Tennessee river today and will receive freight until tomorrow night before returning.

The Saltito passed up yesterday for St. Louis. She was towing a large barge to St. Louis.

The Royal was in from Golconda this morning with a good passenger list.

The Reaper has gone to Caseyville for a tow of coal for the Western Kentucky Coal company.

Mr. Charles Howard, of Metropolis, the well known river man, is in Paducah on a visit. He formerly ran out of Paducah on various boats, but for the past year has been manager of the freight department of the Diamond Joe steamboat line at St. Louis. The Fred Hartweg went to Cairo yesterday after laying over here on Sunday.

The Bob Dudley is due in tomorrow from Nashville.

The John S. Hopkins was in from Evansville this morning. The Joe Fowler will be the Evansville packet tomorrow.

The American has returned to the Tennessee for ties.

The heavy fog that began at an early hour last night and lasted until nearly 9 o'clock this morning, was so dense that steamboats, which were away from port during that time, were forced to tie up until this morning and wait for the fog to rise, and, as a consequence, all the boats due in Paducah this morning were several hours late.

The R. Dunbar, which was due at 11 o'clock, was forced to tie up and wait for morning, although they were successful in reaching the towhead just below the I. C. incline at the foot of Campbell street. The pilot of the Dunbar was making an effort to reach the wharf when he suddenly discovered that the boat was near the towhead, and to attempt to get out was considered too dangerous to undertake. The boat east anchor to wait until the morning sun should drive the fog away.

"Elsewhere in this paper," says the Cairo Bulletin, "appears a very copious extract from the testimony taken before the inspectors at Memphis in the case of Pilot Clarence Nichols, which will give the readers a fair idea of the nature of the case as officially developed. It will be seen that the officers of the steamer Mississippi alone were of the opinion that the Hartweg maneuvers were dangerous to the Mississippi. All the other witnesses, all of them practical river men, agree that there was no danger and the Hartweg did not at any time get close enough to the Mississippi to render a collision likely in case of accident to the machinery."

Official Forecasts. The Ohio from Evansville to Cairo, the Tennessee from Florence to the mouth, and the Mississippi from below St. Louis to Cairo, will continue falling during the next several days.

School Notes.

In some of the primary grades of the different buildings, "Parents' Day" is being featured in a manner certain to attract the parents. The tiny children are writing the invitations themselves, asking "Dear Father and Mother to be sure and come to our 'Parents' Day,' on such a date. The childish notes, evincing such labored care in the neat writing are more alluring to the recipients than any handsomely engraved cards or invitations from the teachers could ever be.

Made an Oath to Forfeit Fingers.

New York, Oct. 22.—Curious Arabic characters scribbled on the back of a leaf of an Armenian bible, comprising, it is said, an oath of mutilation, were introduced in the Tombi police court today. This oath, so an interpreter said, declared that if Shamasha Spaul, bishop of the Armenian church, did not return from Armenia before November 1, three of his fingers should be amputated to forfeit. Three of his archdeacons are bound in similar fashion. Some months ago the bishop visited Armenia on a private mission. Before he departed he called his archdeacons and turned over to them $100 and a silver watch. The bishop and the others then took the oath. The bishop returned, but failed to find his money or watch. So he had detectives haul the two archdeacons to court. Magistrate Herman suggested a civil suit and discharged the prisoners.

SENTIMENTAL BURGLAR.

Refused to Take Savings Bank of Little Girl in House He Robbed.

New York, Oct. 22.—A burglar with sentiment is supposed to be a rarity, but such a man has been found here. He stole $800 in money and valuables from the home of Gustus T. Ruland, a sea captain, but refused to take the savings bank of Ruland's little daughter, Grace, about $18, or her few jewelry trinkets. Instead of rifling the girl's bank, he left this note on it.

"I have a sweet little girl of my own. I hate to be in this business, but I am compelled to. My regards to the baby."

Too Ill to be Nursed.

"The late Blenop Fitzgerald," said a St. Louis man, "once presided at this season of the year at the graduation exercises of a class of nurses. He told the young women a story that pleased them mightily.

"He said that during our war with Spain, a certain hospital had a corps of nurses of exceptional beauty—just such a corps, in fact, as the young ladies ranged before him would have made."

"But it was whispered that these fair nurses were inclined a little to frivolity—inclined a little to flirt with the ailing young soldiers in their charge.

"Now, when a soldier felt that he was on the mend, a flirtation with a pretty nurse was delightful, but when his wounds were troublesome, then gallantry was a thing that he was hardly up to.

"And indeed it was said that sometimes a pretty nurse in this hospital would come to a favorite soldier and find him lying with closed eyes, as if asleep on his cot, and this note pinned on the counterpane.

"Too ill to be nursed today. John Smith."—Indianapolis Star.

SOME OBJECTION TO INTERURBAN

Second Street Merchants Bar Way to Broadway

Ordinances for Salaries and Street Car Fenders Suggested and Many Reports Received.

COUNCILMEN HOLD A MEETING

First reading was given an ordinance granting the Southern Electric Railroad company a right-of-way over Paducah streets to Second and Broadway by the board of councilmen last night. There was some opposition to the road coming on Second street between Jefferson street and Broadway.

The solicitor was instructed to prepare at once an ordinance fixing salaries of city officials for next year. Other matters acted on were principally routine.

Councilman Herzog was absent. Minutes of the last regular meeting were adopted.

Mayor Yeiser was authorized to renew a note for $3,000 for six months. Money was used with settling with the General Electric company.

Extension of water mains on North Twelfth street was reported complete and fire hydrants ordered placed on the rental list.

Residents on Washington street, beyond the railroad shops, requested an extension of water mains. Referred to the light and water committee.

Mayor Yeiser notified the board that the city's coal contract with the West Kentucky Coal company has expired. He was authorized to advertise for bids for coal for another year.

A prayer for Lena L. Williams, asking for a fair assessment of her property on Monroe street, was referred. She claims that adjoining property is assessed much lower.

A report from the health officer about unsanitary conditions at Eleventh and Jefferson street, and the cannery factory being remedied, was referred. He stated that offal from the cannery factory cannot be carried off sewers unless sewers be "opened up." Mayor Yeiser thinks that rotten tomatoes should not be dumped into the sewers, and recommended that the matter be looked into, and if the factory is running its offal into sewers to compel it to stop. This matter was referred.

Mayor Yeiser suggested that the city let a contract to burn garbage, since it is impossible to dump it into the river channel during high water, except at an expense of building a fill. The matter was referred to a committee composed of Councilman Foreman, Lackey and Van Meter.

Mayor Yeiser suggested that more haste be exhibited in arranging to petition the legislature for charter amendments for cities of the second class. Delay has been caused in the committee by the illness of Solicitor Campbell, who is a member of the committee. Solicitor Campbell promised to call a meeting at once.

Object to Street Cars.

A remonstrance was received from J. Nauheim and other Second street wholesale merchants against giving a right-of-way to the Southern Electric Railroad company or any other car or railroad company on Second street between Jefferson street and Broadway. They think that cars will interfere with hauling on that street, frightening horses and compelling wagons to "hug" the sidewalk, which will inconvenience shipping. They declare it will mean a loss of much business. The remonstrance was filed.

Mr. Nauheim spoke. He came from the merchants and stated he and his colleagues are in favor of interurban lines entering the city, but not where it will mean a detriment to business. He declared that now, with no car lines on the street, traffic is often blocked and with a car line they would be unable to load, would lose a great deal of "country trade" or abandon that district. He begged the board not to grant the right-of-way.

Attorney J. C. Flournoy represented the Southern Electric Railway and replied to Mr. Nauheim. He stated that his client desired to come down Third street as suggested by Mr. Nauheim, but that Mayor Yeiser stamped his disapproval because Third street is a filled street carrying the main sanitary sewer, and a car line might damage it in time. He stated that the route of the road had been carefully mapped, and that Second street is the only street on which the road can come into Broadway. "If you refuse us a route on Second street then I ask you to refuse this grant," Attorney Flournoy stated. As to the damage it might cause merchants, he thought it was exaggerated. Mr. Flournoy cited where the road would be a benefit to protesting merchants.

A refund of $75 paid by Will Reynolds for a coffee house license was ordered.

Enforcement of an ordinance prohibiting backs from standing on Broadway was ordered.

A petition asking that barbecue vendors working on the streets, be made to pay a restaurant license was filed. It is from restaurant proprietors.

Ordinance for improving Faxon street from Thirteenth to Fourteenth street, Second passage.

Ordinance for improving Clark street beyond Tenth street, Second reading.

Resolution releasing the Aetna Indemnity company as bondsmen for the Independent Telephone company, which has now gone out of existence. First reading. The rule was suspended and second passage given.

Ordinance granting the Southern Electric Railroad company the right-of-way from Tennessee and Twenty-fifth street north on Twenty-fifth street to Harrison street, then east to then from Harrison street on Fourth street south to Madison street, then east to Second street and on Second street to Broadway was read. This is the measure to part of which Mr. J. Nauheim objected.

Mr. Nauheim suggested making the terminal Jefferson and Second streets, which would compel passengers to walk but one block to reach Broadway, and leave their business block unhampered.

Attorney Flournoy stated that Second street is the only street on which his road can enter Broadway near the river.

First reading given by a unanimous vote.

The committee reported that the city has no right to open a pathway from the Illinois Central shops to Jackson or Clark streets, because it is private property. Employees of the road asked the city to open such a pathway. The report was filed.

Street Car Fenders. An ordinance providing for fenders on all street cars was referred to the board of aldermen.

A petition for street lights in Mechanicsburg was referred to the board of public works.

Several deeds and transfers to lot in Oak Grove cemetery were ratified. H. and M. J. Friedman asked for a refund of $8 taxes paid on property they claim they do not own. The matter was referred to the board of tax supervisors.

Herman Friedman asked for a refund of $8 paid in taxes on property at Eighth and Clark streets which he says he does not own.

The committee reported that it thought the city is not responsible for defective sewerage in Herman Friedman's residence, and recommended that the city not remedy the defect. Friedman claimed that a change in sewers causes water to back into his cellar. He threatens to sue for damage if the city does not act immediately in remedying the defect.

Councilman Lackey suggested an ordinance fixing city officials' salaries. The committee was ordered to draft such a measure.

The board of public works was instructed to string a street light at Nineteenth and Broadway where the car turns.

Councilman Van Meter suggested repairing the levee at the public wharf. He states that large stones often throw horses down and injure them. The matter was referred.

The board of public works was instructed to remove poles from Boyd street that street work can proceed.

City Solicitor Campbell was instructed to prepare an ordinance fixing city officials' salaries by Thursday night.

MANY WAIT TOO LONG.

Says This Home-Made, Helpful Mixture Should Be Used Promptly.

A well-known authority states that backache and pains in the loins are only too often the danger signals which notify the patient that something is wrong with the kidneys, and warns every one to be careful, particularly at this period of the year, when the skin pores are closed, forcing the kidneys to do double their work of filtering the impurities and poisons from the blood and system.

At the first sign of backache or pain in the region of the kidneys, or weakness and urinary trouble, the following simple home recipe should be used. Any one can easily prepare it:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

Any good prescription pharmacy will supply these three ingredients at small cost, which can easily be mixed by shaking well in a bottle.

Few people seem to know the value of these common remedies in the treatment of the kidneys. This simple prescription, when taken as directed, will regulate the urine, clear up and remove sediment, overcome back pains and cleanse the entire kidney structure, correcting bladder troubles in just a little while.

IMMUNITY FOR TAYLOR A MERE CAMPAIGN CARD

The Clinton Gazette, a Democratic paper, in discussing the offer to grant Gov. W. S. Taylor immunity from arrest if he should return to Kentucky to testify in the Powers case, says: "The offer by Mr. Franklin and Gov. Beckham of immunity from arrest if he would come to testify in the Powers case was a mere campaign card. It seems to have been made through the public press and not pro forma to Mr. Taylor himself. We have no patience with such cheap methods in politics. We protest against the belittling of Goebel's assassination by such politics. Better the cases against Powers and Taylor were dismissed than that the crime of crimes in Kentucky's history should be made a plaything of by cold-blooded politicians of the breed that flourishes in Kentucky today."

SOUTH TRIMBLE'S LETTER

The Herald printed on its first page yesterday morning a letter said to have been written in 1899 by South Trimble, Democratic nominee for lieutenant governor of Kentucky. The document, inviting a Democratic election commissioner to lend himself to improper purposes to insure the election of the Democratic ticket, is so pertinent that it needs no further elucidation. It is well calculated to stand strictly on its own merits, to plead its own cause, to speak loudly and often during the current campaign.

The spectacle of a candidate for the high office of lieutenant governor, a position which makes the governorship within reach, in case of death or mishap, urging an election commissioner to vacate his office in favor of another, who, it was alleged, would lend himself more readily to the purposes of the machine, is one which the voters of Kentucky may well contemplate with alarm.

It is true that South Trimble was not a candidate for lieutenant governor in 1899, but he was then South Trimble as he is now South Trimble, with the same motives, the same mind, the same impulses, the same standard of principle and honor, the ambitions, and, we presume, the same tactics. It is not for the people to presume that the South Trimble of 1899 is any different than the South Trimble of 1907.

Witness what the former congressman is alleged to have written in 1899:

"Our county is all right—safely Democratic—but city elections cannot be won with a fair count, and you know that as well as I do. Incompetent, unreliable Republican judges will have to be appointed. The right of the Republicans to indicate who shall represent them as judges will have to be ignored, and the election commissioners will have to do this or receive the ill will of the city Democrats."

"I would not do it, I could not conscientiously do so, and I know that you would not; therefore, my advice to you is to refuse to act."

"I had a talk with Judge Pryor on the subject, and he said that if you would refuse to act he would appoint anyone that we might indicate, which would be Ben Marshall. You know Ben is so partisan that he thinks anything is right that helps the Democrats."

He would not do it because, as he says, he could not conscientiously do so. A fine high-class sense of morals! He could not do it, but he could have others do it. He could not do it, but could urge another man to be a party to the offense. He could not do it, but he could conceive and devise the scheme.

Meanwhile, Governor Beckham and S. W. Hager, the candidate for governor, are preaching the doctrine of reform, of good government and honesty in office. Governor Beckham poses as a reformer of Louisville and indorses South Trimble. Hager promises good government with South Trimble presiding over the senate. The Democratic ticket offers clean government with the alleged author of that letter running for the second highest office within the gift of the people of Kentucky.

What choice is there left to the voters? On the one hand they are offered a ticket teaming with the wholesome stench of mismanagement, corruption and machine politics, while on the other they are offered a ticket headed by Willson and Cox, a ticket of men promising a clean administration and proposing to give a clean administration when elected.—Louisville Herald.

AGED FARMER KILLED.

Struck Over the Head By Man With Whom He Had Quarreled.

Princeton, Ky., Oct. 22.—Jeff Prewitt, an aged farmer, was struck over the head and killed in this county in the Otter Pond neighborhood, during a quarrel with Rob Mills, another farmer. The men were returning home when they became involved in a quarrel. Mills claims Prewitt shot at him and he struck Prewitt, knocking him down. Mills was held without bail.

COURT DECIDED IN HIS FAVOR

Cooper Fought to Retain Formula Which Has Made a Fortune.

L. T. Cooper, the man who believes that 90 per cent. of all ill health of this generation is caused by stomach trouble, is fast winning a national faith in his theory. His claim is now admitted by a surprising number of people throughout the country, and he is gaining new adherents every day.

While speaking of his success in a recent interview, Mr. Cooper said: "I believed ten years ago that any one who could produce a formula that would thoroughly regulate the stomach would have a fortune. When I got hold of this formula I knew within six months that I was right, and that my fortune was made. I called the medicine Cooper's New Discovering, although I did not get up the formula. I have owned it, however, for over three years. I have had one lawsuit over it, which I won in the courts. When it was settled the Cooper Medicine Company became the only firm in the world that can prepare the medicine. The preparation has sold like wildfire wherever introduced. As I have said before, it is successful simply because, it puts the stomach in perfect shape, then nature does the rest. There are any number of complaints never before associated with stomach trouble that the medicine has alleviated in thousands of cases."

"I heard about the Cooper medicine and decided to try it. I used four bottles, and the improvement in my case has been really wonderful. My nerves have been quieted, and I am so much improved that I feel like a new woman."

"I cannot say too much for these wonderful remedies, for they have made me well."

We sell the Cooper medicines and consider them well worth a trial by any one afflicted with chronic stomach trouble and its attendant diseases.—W. B. McPherson.

Among statements obtained recently from users of this medicine that is arousing such universal discussion is one from Mrs. Emma Stanley, living in Chicago, at 713 Washington Boulevard, who said: "Perhaps I had the most complicated case that Mr. Cooper had to deal with. I was troubled for years with my stomach. I consulted with doctors and took many patent medicine preparations without result. My stomach was in such a wretched shape that I could not enjoy a meal that I ate."

"I was very nervous, and could hardly sleep; I had a roaring in my ears and dancing spots before my eyes. I felt very bad and weak. Then there was a very sore spot at the pit of my stomach that nearly set me wild."

Tuesday—It's a wise son that knows he knows less than his own father.

Wednesday—By blustering minds tact is easily mistaken for culpable inaction.

Thursday—Education is an ornament in prosperity and a refuge in adversity.

Friday—Tact is to a woman in private life what genius is to artists.

Saturday—It's a pity we can't keep our good resolutions by placing them in cold storage.

Drums Drove Rats Away.

The beating of snare drums has been found efficacious by Newton W. Rush in clearing out a rat-infested farm. He lives on the old Peter Shields farm. The rats were so numerous they ate his fodder, nipped his cattle and took possession of his place. He engaged four friends to help him and they beat five snare drums about the house and farm buildings, causing the rats to scatter. Rush said he has not seen a rat about the place since.—Washington, Pa., Cor. to the Philadelphia Record.

With that Jack scrambled, slid and jumped down. Drummond was very quiet and serious. Repeating rifles stood in a row on the opposite wall, easy to get at, but as far off as might be from the effects of a possible shell. The two young men now mounted the stone bench by the door, which allowed them to look over the ledge at the eastern sea. Presently the craft appeared round the end of the island, pure white, floating like a swan on the water and making great headway.

"By Jove," said Jack, "she's a fine one! Looks like the czar's yacht, but no Russian vessel I know of can make that speed."

"She's got the earmarks of Thornycroft, build about her," commented Drummond. "By Jove, Jack, what luck if she should prove to be English! No flag flying, though."

"She's heading for us," said Jack, "and apparently she knows which side the cannon is on. If she's Russian, they've taken it for granted we've captured the whole place and are in command of the guns. There, she's turning."

"Jove, I wish I'd a pair of good glasses," said Drummond. "They're lowering a boat."

Jack showed more highland excitement than Russian stolidity as he watched the coming of a small boat, beautifully riding the waves and masterfully rowed by sailors who understood the art. Drummond stood imperturbable as a statue.

"The sweep of those oars is English, Jack, my boy."

As the boat came nearer and nearer Jack became more and more agitated. "I say, Alan, focus your eyes on that man at the rudder. I think my sight's failing me. Look closely. Did you ever see him before?"

"I think I have, but am not quite sure."

"Why, he looks to me like my jovial and venerable father-in-law, Captain Kempt, of Bar Harbor. Perfectly absurd, of course. It can't be."

"He does resemble the captain, but I only saw him once or twice."

"Hoory, Captain Kempt! How are you?" shouted Jack across the waters. "The captain raised his right hand and waved it, but made no attempt to cover the distance with his voice. Jack ran pell-mell down the steps, and Drummond followed in more leisurely fashion. The boat swung around to the landing, and Captain Kempt cried cordially:

"Hello, prince! How are you? And that's Lieutenant Drummond, isn't it? Last time I had the pleasure of seeing you, Drummond, was that night of the ball."

"Yes," said Drummond. "I was very glad to see you then, but a hundred times happier to see you today."

"I was just cruising around these waters in my yacht, and I thought I'd take a look at this rock you tried to obliterate. I don't see any perceptible damage done, but what can you expect from British marksmanship?"

"I struck the rock on the other side, captain. I think your remark is unkind, especially as I've just been praising the watermanship of your men."

"Now, are you boys tired of this summer resort?" asked Captain Kempt. "Is your baggage checked, and are you ready to go? Most seaside places are deserted this time of year."

"We'll be ready in a moment, captain," cried his future son-in-law. "I must run up and get the governor. We've put a number of men in prison here, and they'll starve if not released. The governor's a good old chap, though he played it low down on me a few days ago," and with that Jack disappeared up the stairway once more.

"Had a jail delivery here?" asked the captain.

"Well, something by way of that. The prince drilled a hole in the rock, and we got out. We've put the garrison in pawn, so to speak, but I've been mighty anxious these last few days because the sailboat they had here and two of the garrison escaped to the mainland with the news. We were anxiously watching your yacht, fearing it was Russian. Jack thought it was such a craft, captain? Splendid looking boat that."

keys, and goodby."

In the flurry of excitement over the yacht's appearance both Jack and Drummond had temporarily forgotten the existence of the tramp steamer the former had seen beating toward the rock.

Now Lamont suddenly recalled it. "By the way, governor," he said, "the relief boat you so thoughtfully sent for is on her way here. She should reach the rock at almost any minute now. In fact, I fancy we've little time to waste if we want to avoid a brush. It would be a pity to be nabbed now at the eleventh hour. Goodby once more."

But the governor had stepped between him and the boat. "I—I am an old man," he said, speaking with manifest embarrassment. "I was sent to take charge of this prison as punishment for refusing to join a Jew massacre plot. Governorship here means no more or less than a life imprisonment. My wife and children are on a little estate of mine in Sweden. It is twelve years since I have seen them."

"If this story is a ruse to detain us?" "Not No!" protested the governor, and there was no mistaking his pathetic, eager sincerity. "But—but I shall be shot or locked in one of the cells and the water turned on for letting you escape. Won't you take me with you? I will work my passage. Take me as far as Stockholm. I shall be free there—free to join my wife and to live forever out of reach of the grand dukes. Take me!"

"Jump in!" ordered Jack, coming to a sudden resolution. "Hearken knows" on them despite the rowers' best efforts and must unquestionably cut them off before they could reach the yacht.

The launch was now within halting distance, and every man aboard her was glaring at the helpless little yacht.

"Wait!"

It was the governor who spoke. Rising from his seat in the stern, he hailed the officer who was sighting the third fire gun.

"Lieutenant Tschersky," he called. "At sight of the old man's lean, uniformed figure rising from among the rest there was visible excitement and surprise aboard the launch. The officer saluted and ordered the engine stopped that he might hear more plainly."

"Lieutenant," repeated the governor. "I am summoned aboard his highness the Grand Duke Vladimir's yacht. You will proceed to the harbor and await my return to the rock. There has been a mutiny among the garrison, but I have quelled it."

The officer saluted again, gave an order, and the launch's nose pointed for the rock.

"Governor," observed Lamont as the old man sank again into his seat, "you've earned your passage to Stockholm. You need not work for it."

Did He See the Point?
There is a bright young woman of the official set in Washington, who, at a public function this winter, found herself much bored by the attention of a fresh young man, the son of a senator from a southwestern state.

Soon after his introduction to the young woman, the fresh young man proceeded to regale her with a story of some adventure in which he had figured as hero. His listener, a remarkably well-bred girl, was as much surprised as he could have wished, though not in the same way.

"Did you really do that?" she asked, not knowing what else to say. "I did it!" was the proud response of the fresh young man; and he began forthwith another lengthy narrative, more startling even than the first. The young woman again politely expressed her surprise.

"Yes," said the hero; that's what I did!"

A third story followed, with another "I did it!" whereupon the girl remarked: "Do you know, Mr. Blank, you remind me so strongly of Banquo's ghost in the play?"

"Why?"

Keep Your Bowels Open

It is a noticeable fact, and one which any doctor will verify that people who suffer most often from disease are the ones who have the most difficulty in keeping their bowels open. Regular bowel action is half the battle of health.

People who have a tendency to constipation must of necessity use something to help nature along. This should not be a violent aid like salts or purgative waters, cathartic pills or powders, but a syrup liquid that will oil the intestines and membranes that it comes in contact with.

Children, women and weak people generally should never be given a strong physic, as it weakens the system. And it is futile for the strongest person because the relief is only for that day, and then the reaction sets in and you are worse off than before.

What is needed is a prompt, but gentle laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. People have been taking it for sixteen years and it is better better by more people every year. The reason is that it is a pure, it is unlike anything else. There are no salts or cathartics in it. It is a pure, it is unlike anything else. There are no salts or cathartics in it. It is a pure, it is unlike anything else. There are no salts or cathartics in it.

Wise mothers keep it constantly in the house for emergency because it is needed at some time or other by every member of the family. Dr. Laetha Underhill, the medical superintendent of the Western Canadian Hospital, has kept her charges in perfect health by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin whenever a stomach complaint was brought to her attention. No other laxative is used in the Home. Buy a bottle yourself today and watch the prompt and permanent results.

DECEMBER 6.

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE WILL SELECT CITY.

National Convention Plans Will Shortly Be Announced—The Requirements.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 22.—The Republican national committee will meet in this city on December 6 and 7 to decide upon the place and time for holding the next Republican national convention. Formal announcement to this effect was made today by Harry S. New, acting chairman of the Republican national committee, after conferring with Secretary Elmer Dover.

According to Mr. New, a number of cities have made formal application for the next convention, among them being Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis, Denver, Seattle, Atlantic City, and Pittsburgh. From Milwaukee and St. Paul also have come inquiries as to their prospects for securing the convention, but Mr. New said that at this time he was not committed to any particular city.

"The next convention is going to attract a larger number of people than have heretofore attended," said Mr. New, "and there are four considerations to be taken into account in deciding upon a place for holding the convention. The first is the accessibility of the town. It must possess adequate transportation facilities. Second, it must have ample first-class hotel accommodations. Third, it must provide a good hall, sufficient in size and successful of being arranged for the accommodation of the convention, and, further, it must possess adequate facilities for the distribution of news."

A Monster Kite.
Probably the most wonderful and ingenious achievements of a Chinese kite maker is designed to represent a gigantic centipede. This is unquestionably the longest and most fantastic amusement device that has ever been constructed for aerial flight. From head to tail it measures nearly forty feet, and is made to fold up accordion like. The fierce large head of the creature, with long protruding horns, huge eyes and gaping mouth, forms the front of the kite. This is the gem and marvel of the whole collection and entirely new to the eyes of the western world.

Its construction is as follows: Extending from head to tail and constituting the body portion is a series of bamboo sticks running crosswise to the center, to which are fastened twenty-five or more pasteboard disks a foot or more in diameter. These are painted in circles of black, yellow and white, representing the all-seeing eyes of this mythological creature. A tall portion of narrow strips is fastened to the last piece of bamboo. By a mechanical contrivance the curved pieces of pasteboard forming the eyes are made to revolve by the wind while the kite is being flown.

Seen in the air, with supertitlike motion, its huge glaring eyes swiftly twirling in their sockets, the effect is said to be astonishingly realistic, producing quite an awe inspiring scene, to the Chinese mind at least. While being flown a cord is attached to three or more points of its length, in order to keep it under control. In a strong wind several men are required to hold the reel. Undoubtedly we have here one of the first and most ancient patterns of flying machines, thousands of years old.—The World Today.

BLINDFOLDED

In Startling Adventure and Fascinating Mystery

A young man arrives in San Francisco at dusk. He knows but one person in all that great city—a cousin, a man of his own age. Within the hour the cousin is murdered and the stranger is plunged into the midst of an intricate conspiracy. Fate takes him by the hand. Luck points the way. Circumstances, blind, but relentless, rob him of his rightful name and cheat him out of his identity. They make him the champion of a cause he never heard of, the leader of conspirators he never saw and the lover of a girl he dreads to win. Cunningly attacked by unknown assailants and as cunningly guarded by unknown defenders, he is the storm center of a dramatic and relentless struggle.

Both the reader and the hero are "blindfolded." Both are quite as innocent of the past as they are ignorant of the future. The present, full of mystery and adventure, is all they can handle. But very gladly and together they fight against an enemy unseen, with friends unknown, and for stakes undreamed of.

Those qualities, whatever they are, that in mystery most fascinate us; that in adventure most charm us, are the qualities that dominate the pages of

SULTAN OF SOUTH

DEFEATS ABDUL EL AZIZ'S FORCES IN BATTLE.

French Reconnoitering Party Is Ambushed and a Captain Is Killed.

Tangier, Oct. 22.—October 17 between Shawta and Mequines occurred the first battle between the forces of Sultan Abdul El Aziz and Mulai Hafid pretender to the throne and known as sultan of the south. The latter was overwhelmingly victorious and the battle is of great importance as to the strengthening sentiment of favor of Mulai Hafid.

According to reports just received pretenders troops, Mulai Rachid commanding, defeated the sultan's troops and captured several pieces of modern field artillery, together with Calid Bushta Bagdani, commander-in-chief of all the Abdul Aziz's forces.

The ambushing of a French reconnoitering party while proceeding from Casablanca in the direction of Tangier, resulting in the killing of Captain Jandey and a private of the Chaeurs De Afrique and the wounding of several men will, it is thought, result in a resumption of hostilities on part of the French troops commanded by General Drude.

The Gregory Heights Company are spending about $65,000 in permanent improvements—graveling streets and sidewalks, the new street car line, heavy cement culverts, drain pipes, etc. These improvements constitute an immediate return on your investment in the enhancement of the value of the property.

CULLEY'S DATES ARE GIVEN OUT

Will Meet Several Heavy Teams This Season

Big Murray Squad Will Come Here Friday—They Average About 135 Pounds.

METROPOLIS' DATE CANCELLED

Culleys vs. Murray, October 25.
Culleys vs. Paducah High school, November 2.
Culleys vs. West Kentucky, of Mayfield, November 8.
Culleys vs. South Kentucky College, Hopkinsville, November 15.
Culleys vs. picked team of Mayfield, November 28.

Manager John Brooks, of the Culley football team, this morning announced dates of games for Paducah. There will be five games before the season closes, and he hopes to take a majority of them, although his team will go against odds in a majority of the games.

Friday the Culleys will meet a picked team from Murray. The Calhoun county team will weigh about equal to the locals. The West Kentucky college team, of Mayfield, will weigh about even with the Culleys, but the South Kentucky college team, of Hopkinsville, will weigh 145. The closing game will be played with a picked team from Mayfield, weighing 170 pounds. The Culleys average 135 pounds.

The Culleys have played but one game this season, defeating the High school team. They showed up fast on their feet and will put up a stiff fight against odds. Training is indulged in at night; all members of the team being working boys. Handicapped in this way the team's showing is wonderful.

Metropolis Game Off.
The football game scheduled between Metropolis and Paducah High school squads will not be played on account of the disbanding of the Illinois team.

Principal Sugg will continue making dates for games here and elsewhere until the close of the season on Thanksgiving day. The boys are elated over their victory over Hopkinsville, and will play the Culley team here on November 2. They are working hard to get into condition, and hope to make a better showing than in the initial game with the Culley team.

—Have you seen the wonderful results which have been achieved in beautiful Gregory Heights by the lavish use of money in permanent improvements? If not, don't fail to attend the sale tomorrow. Street cars free for all and you can get your lunch on the grounds, which will be served by a number of public spirited ladies of the city who will devote the proceeds to charity.

The Splendid New Serial Story

Satan Sanderson

Satan Sanderson is the true embodiment of the requisites that make a really great story. It gives the reader a look into a little world of action where all of the emotions that make or mar life—and lives—are set in swift, exciting play—one against the other. Incident follows incident with quick succession, and a vivid panorama of intrigue, mystery, love and strange adventures kindles the interest to the fusing point.

Written in a charming style, brilliant in coloring, picturesque in background, faithful in characterization and intensely dramatic, with stirring climax, Satan Sanderson is by all odds the best story of the year.
